Introduction to Facial Reflexology Sorensensistem™

Facial reflexology is a therapeutic intervention in which stimulation of zones and points of the face are utilised to alleviate health conditions in other parts of the body.

Facial Reflexology Sorensensistem™ is a new generation complementary therapy. It is a unique treatment that combines ancient alternative therapies: Chinese energy meridians and acupuncture points, Vietnamese and Andean tribal body maps, with modern neuro-anatomy.

The success and effectiveness of Facial Reflexology Sorensensistem™ lies in its ability to identify the root cause of your client's health imbalances and provide you with the knowledge to initiate a healing process using the balancing properties of the above three disciplines and additional procedures including: cranial lines and points, muscle stimulation, facial nerve points together with aspects of colour and aroma therapy.

Devised by Lone Sorensen, herself a multi disciplinary therapist, she has worked to combine these therapies to heal the individual on all levels; physically, energetically and psychologically.

A treatment will take approx 45-50 minutes and the entire surface of the face is treated (except the eye lids). A natural improvement in the blood circulation, lymphatic drainage and nerve function of the face will result in a glowing complexion AND improved health!

Quotes from qualified therapists in Facial Reflexology Sorensensistem™
